I appreciate your letter of 9 December, and enjoyed my talk with Mr. Anderson, about the possibility of my doing a book one of these days.

As I made clear to Mr. Anderson, both my present job and the pressure of work, mean that I shall probably not be writing anything of the nature Mr. Anderson discussed for the immediate future, as I know you can readily appreciate. Meanwhile, in case you are in Washington, I hope you will drop in to see me, and that when you write your father in Spain you will send my kindest regards.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

December 9, 1959

The Honorable Allen Dulles, Director
Central Intelligence Agency

Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Dulles:

Our Mr. Charles Anderson has told me of the nice interview he had with you in Washington several weeks ago, and I just wanted to write to you and thank you for giving him some of your most valuable time.

My father, Mr. George P. Brett, Jr., and I concur most heartily that any contribution you could make to the available literature on the dangers of Communism would be of interest to free people all over the world. We know that you are a very busy man and that, indeed, we may have to wait for such a book, but whenever you feel the time is appropriate, I would welcome the opportunity to come to Washington and talk to you.

Incidentally, Mr. George Brett just left for Spain, not to return until April, but before he left he particularly asked me to send his best regards to you.

Sincerely yours,

BYB/J
